

Associated Membership Platform (AMP)

As a normal user of the Food Tech Innovation Portal you have read only status. This means that you are not able to publish own profile or technology descriptions. Furthermore, personal contact data are not visible. For the full functionality you have to register for the Associated Membership Platform. Registration can be done by the link in the upper right corner of the website or by email to amp@hightecheurope.eu.

Membership is free of charge. The only obligation is the publication of your contact details in form of a profile sheet. This way, the network is meant to be constantly broadened. Advantages of the membership at a glance:

- View all contact data in the portal
- Comment existing datasheets
- Insert new datasheets to promote your own technologies
- Publish your profile to be found by others

=> Be part of a huge network to make new contacts and boost your business
